THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS OF MONEY.

Offerings and Sales at the Richmond Tobacco Exchange-Internal Revenue Collections Foreign Advices.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Higher quotations from London and moderate purchases for foreign account imparted a firm tone to the local stock market during the early trading, and prices advanced from it to by per cent. Tobacco, Sugar, Tennessee Coal and Iron, Kansas and Texas, the Grangers, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Manhattan being most prominent in the rise. Tobacco sold up to 10% on the announcement that the company had acquired the Ivanhoe plant of Long Island. It was stated that no new stock will be issued and that the purchase was made out of the surglus of the American Tobacco Company, Sugar got up to 10%, on the advance in certain frades of refined. In the afternoon trading the market was inclined to sell off, there being a general disposition to accept profits. General Electric was notably heavy and fell to 33. Brokers identified with bearish interests claimed to be in possession of information to the effect that the Westinghouse people were not in sympathy with the booling of patents scheme with the General Electric, and this was used against the stock of the last named. It should be remembered, however, that a director of the Westinghouse in on record as saying that the deal will go through, and now simply lacks the formal consent of the executive committee of both companies. Leatner preferred dropped 1½ to 74%, and inter rose to 77670% on the declaration of another dividend of 1 per cent. Tennessee Coal and Iron crossed 20 on statements by President Baxter that the fron trade in the South was improving. Speculation closed steady. Net changes show losses of 1½ to 1 per cent. Tennessee Coal and Iron crossed 20 on statements by President Baxter that the fron trade in the South was improving. Speculation closed steady. Net changes show losses of 1½ to 1 per cent. In the innective list, Minnesota Iron rose 2 to 40, and Kio Grande Western preferred 41½ to 42. Total sales were 211,558 chares. The bond market was irregular, but in the main lower. The sales of listed stocks aggregated 143,000 shares.

CHICAGO. ILL., April 16.—Like an echo of yesterday's unexpected buige in wheat, there was an advance of less magnitude to-day. Shrewd observers claim that the elevator people were at the back of the boom, and point to the comparative lack of strength in July option when May was advancing as an evidence of selling by the same people who were interested in advancing the May. To-day's advance of 1c. from yesterday's close lacked stability, the entire appreciation having disappeared at the close. The market opened easy, but after the expiration of the first half hour an attempt to cover some wheat, prohably for St. Louis, discovered the pit bare of offerings. The crowd, always ready to ask itself of just such opportunities, quickly bid prices up from 50½c. for 50½c. for May. At the latter figure enough wheat was found to satisfy all wants and more too. From noon until the close the reaction was slow but sure, and at the end prices rested at the same place as they did yesterday. May wheat opened from 50½c. to 50½c., advanced to 50½c., decining to and closing at 50½c. Cash wheat was firm and unchanged.

Corn—With an eye on wheat, scalpers still were able to work out a few tractions in corn. The elevator proprietors were the sellers early, but the more active condition of the leading grain discredited the trade in corn. No outside business was done, and the pit traders did protty much as they pleased. May corn opened from 45½c. to 45½c., sold between 45½c. and 40½c., closing at 45½c. Very narrow limit covered the quotations, the fluctuations reflecting the action of wheat. May closed ½c. under yesterday. Cash offer a scarce article in product to-day. A very moderate effort at buying or any light offerings determined the tone for the time being, but prices drifted into a heavy condition before the close. May pork lost 7½c, for the day, May lard 7½c, and May ribs 5c.

Foreman Was W.ld and at Times Lost Control of the Ball-The dome Team's Work Was Fust and Snappy.

PIONS IN A WELL PLAYED GAME.

Little Billie Pender and his aggregation of potato diggers, who play ball by way of mental and physical diversion, were exceedingly depressed in spirits when they wended their way homeward yesterday afternoon from the ball park.

They had come over from the sleepy hamlet on the banks of the still more sleepy Appomattox, with their systems eaturated and impregnated with black, blue and green revenge. Yes, the Chamblue and green revenge. Yes, the Champions felt keenly within the depths of their proud souls their humiliation of the day before, and they had sworn by the mustache of their noble and aforesaid leader, Little Billie Pender, that they would have revenge in its broadest sense. Nothing short of a sweeping victory would satisfy them, and they were simply going to wipe the Hustlers off of the earth.

They came with this intent, but alas, the fates smiled not upon the hardy Farmers, and for a second time the title which they won last year. was again besmirched by the taint of defeat. The score was 6 to 3 in favor of the Hustlers, and the local "fans" were happy. Yes, they were very happy, and in the fullness of their hearts they forgot the Icelandic breezes that swept the diamond, and sat and cheered, guyed and ate innumerable bags of peanuts through nine innings of consealed base-ball pleasure. Foreman, the invincible, was in the box for the Champions, but he was unable to turn the tide of battle by his deceptive drops, his zig-zag curves or his highdrops, his zig-zag curves or his high-neck twisters.

L'empire Datey had a nice pair of scissors in his eyes, and he was way off in his decisions on balls and strikes, but he roasted each side alike. Perhaps he will improve. I hope he will, for he evidently means to do the fair thing. He might as well start in right here by fining those players who mar the game by their jaw music. Twice yesterday he should have fined Petersburg players, and also members of the home team, for kicking. HE MEANS WILL.

Talking about kicking, that reminds me of Billie Pender and the noise he made yesterday when things did not go just to suit his taste. His lung power would run an electric car in Manchester, while he kicked so hard that he kicked his shore off.

The Hustlers won. There is no doubt about that; but how did they win? They won because they played a better fielding game than Petersburg, because Foreman lost control of the ball in the third inning, and because they had their luck with them. Of course I love as much as anyone to see the Hustlers win, beyond the shadow of a doubt, but there is no denying that in yestorday's game the luck was dead against the Cham-pions. Tannehill pitched an excellent game, and in every inning, except the seventh, he kept the hits well scattered.

In this inning he gave one base on balls, was found for two singles and a double, netting the Farmers three and their only runs during the game.

Foreman was hit safely four times; one of these was a scratch hit by Kain, so he was really hit only three times, and all these hits came together in the third inning. If a team can have better luck I would like to see it.

Tannchill was hit nine times, but he only gave two bases on balls, while Foreman gave six, besides making two wild pitches, and in addition McClung had a pass ball.

I have said the Farmers scored three pass ball.

I have said the Farmers scored three runs in the seventh, Well so they did, and two of them were earned. The Hustiers crossed the home plate five times in the third. In this innings the local sticks made three nits, Foreman gave three men bases on balls, he hit Foster; made a wild pitch, and was found by Wells for a sacrifice hit, and as a result the Pender aggregation were defeated after this inning.

The Hustlers scored again in the fifth. The Hustlers scored again in the fifth.
Houseman struck out and McClung allowed the bail to pass him. Wells made a sacrifice hit and Houseman went to second. He went to third on Berte's hit and scored on a wild pitch by Foreman. In all the other innings the home boys drew blanks, as did the Farmers in all except the seventh.

THAT THIRD BASEMAN.

THAT THIRD BASEMAN.

Pender has a man on third evidently of Russian origin, for he spells his name as follows, Unglaub. In fact, he is said to have been exiled to Siberia, but made his escape and came to this country, gave up the diplomatic wire pulling of court, and in its stead took up the less lucrative, but safer, way of carning a living, and now he chases the sphere. Yes, that expresses it; he chases, for yesterday he made two errors, but he was not alone; Hayden and Suilivan kept him company. He did, however, partially redeem himself by making a pretty catch of a hot liner from Tannehill's bat in the sixth. The Farmers fielded well, and played an up-hill game to the last, but they were forced to go under.

How about it?

If you could have seen the Hustlers work, it would have done your heart good. The same men who have been called "stiffs" and no-account, played fast and snappy game. They put up the genuine article, and proved that some few hasty people have very little knowledge of the game, when they censured them for not beating the League clubs. There were two errors made, and both were excusable. Kain dropped a foul fly after a long run, and Berte falled to hold a ball at second, and put out Foster. Kain showed great improvement. He made three difficult catches, besides cutting Lippert off at the home plate in the first inning, by a long and beautiful throw from left field. McGowan, Berte, Houseman, and Wells put up a perfect game, while the way Senator Gibson held Tannehill was a caution.

The Farmers will make a great effort to capture the game this afternoon. HOW ABOUT IT?

NORFCLK, VA. April 15.—Portsmouth won one of the prettiest played games from Norfolk this affermoon that has been seen for a long time. It was a pitcher's battle, in which Leach was bilt more, but Setley's wildness in giving three men bases on balls in the first inning lost the same. Norfolk had a chance to win out in the ninth inning, when they had two men on bases and nobody out, but they threw it away by stupid base-running. The umpiring of Mr. Saunders was very bad, and after the game a youthful entursiast let his anger set the better of his discretion and struck him with a ciub. Saunders, however, was not hurt much. The question of a vacancy in a Federal position in Virginia, paying a very liberal compensation, has not failed to elicit numerous candidates, and as a matter of fact nearly forty are already in the field for the position of the internal revenue collectorship of the Western district.

Even college boys, who made their maiden speeches last fall, are claiming recognition for their party fealty, and the claims of many other reconstructed Democrats and rejuvenated administra-

Democrats and rejuvenated administration men are equally as absurd.

It has transpired that Hon. Henry H.
Downing, of Front Royal, would accept this position, and the Treasury Department has received quite a rush of endorsements along this line. The very earnest support of Mr. Cleveland for the last nomination, by Mr. Downing is well remembered, and the work he accomplished was highly regarded by even the more prominent leaders who afterward compelled him to submit to a compromise.

There are few men in the State whose individuality has greater impress than that of Mr. Downing, who as a Democrat and member of the House of Delecrat and member of the House of Delegates has always enjoyed the confidence of the people and the respect of his party. As a business man of energy and capability he has few equals, and his record for just discernment and personal probity is unimpeachable.

The wide reputation of Mr. Downing, embracing the admiration of even his former opponents to Mr. Cleveland, is very pronounced now, and while the Virginia senators and representatives have very pronounced now, and while the Virginia senators and representatives have not committed themselves as to a candidate the indications are very strong that the party services of Mr. Downing appeal very strongly to them. There is but little doubt that ex-Senaor Hunton will interests himself most actively for Mr. Downing, as he was one of his most active leaders in his senatorial fight.

The name of General Fitz. Lee has also been very prominently mentioned in this connection.
